

ADD NEW INSULATION.
AND SUBTRACT

UP
TO $1200

FROM YOUR TAX BILL.

Homeowners! Get up to a $1200 tax credit on new insulation for your home!

It's part of the federal government's new climate and tax law. Adding insulation to your home will lower energy costs and help contribute to a clean energy future. To sweeten the deal to upgrade your insulation, the federal government is offering this significant tax credit which can shave as much as $1,200 off your tax bill!

The Inflation Reduction Act of 2022

This tax incentive to make your home more energy efficient is part of the Inflation Reduction Act of 2022 and a significant increase from the previous 25C tax credit of $500. The tax credit is equal to 30% (up to $1,200) of the amount paid by the taxpaying homeowner for qualified energy efficiency improvements.

All taxpaying homeowners are eligible as long as the home is owned and used by the taxpayer as their principal residence. New construction and rentals are not eligible. To claim the credit, you simply have the new insulation installed, save your documentation and receipts, and complete IRS Form 5695: Residential Energy Credits.
